1. About BlackRock Investment Management (Australia) Limited

BlackRock Investment Management (Australia) Limited, ABN 13 006 165 975 (referred to in this PDS as BlackRock, Responsible Entity, Manager, we, our or us) is the responsible entity and the issuer of units in the BlackRock Global Impact Fund (Aust) (Class D Units) (Fund).

BlackRock is a wholly owned subsidiary of BlackRock, Inc.[®] (BlackRock Inc) but is not guaranteed by BlackRock Inc, or any BlackRock Inc subsidiary or associated entity (the BlackRock Group). Neither BlackRock nor any member of the BlackRock Group guarantees the success of the Fund, the achievement of the investment objective, or the repayment of capital or particular rates of return on investment or capital. An investor in the Fund could lose all or a substantial part of their investment. In particular, the performance of the Fund will depend on the performance and market value of the assets held by the Fund. We reserve the right to outsource any or all investment, management and administration functions, including to related parties, without notice to investors.

2. How the BlackRock Global Impact Fund (Aust) (Class D Units) works

2.1 The interests that members acquire

The Fund is structured as a unitised registered managed investment scheme. This means your money is pooled together with monies from other investors. This is used to buy investments that are managed on behalf of all investors in the Fund. When you invest in the Fund, you are allocated a number of units in the Fund, rather than directly receiving an interest in the assets of the Fund. Each of these units represents an equal share in the net assets of the Fund as a whole and are not related to any particular asset. As a result, each unit has a dollar value or “unit price”. The unit price will vary as the market value of assets in the Fund rises or falls. The number of units you receive is dependent on the amount of money you invest and the applicable unit price.

2.2 Minimum investment amounts

When investing in the Fund you generally need a minimum amount of $50,000 or such other amount as we may determine from time to time. There is no minimum investment for subsequent applications. While there is no minimum redemption amount, we generally require a minimum balance in your Fund account of $50,000.

2.3 How investors can increase or decrease their investment

Investors can increase or decrease their investment by acquiring units (refer to section 8.1 of this PDS titled “How to apply”) or redeeming all or part of their investment (refer to section 2.4 of this PDS titled “How to redeem your investment”).

2.4 How to redeem your investment

Redemption requests can be made in writing (either by post or facsimile). You will normally be able to redeem from the Fund on any Business Day, being a day other than a Saturday or Sunday on which banks are open for general banking business in Sydney, Ireland, the United Kingdom and the United States. A list of public holidays affecting the Fund is available on our website.

Investor transaction requests are required to be received by 1.00pm (Sydney time) on any Business Day (Transaction Cut-off Time). Transaction requests received before this time will generally be executed on the same day (Trade Date). Investor transaction requests received after this time or on a day when the Fund is unavailable for transactions will generally be treated as having been received the following Business Day.

Following receipt of a redemption request, we will deposit redemption proceeds into your nominated Australian bank account, generally within six Business Days of our having received the redemption request, although we are allowed longer periods under the Fund’s constitution.

In some circumstances, such as when there is a freeze on withdrawals, investors may not be able to withdraw from the Fund within the usual period upon request.

2.5 Frequency of distributions and how they are calculated

If you hold units in the Fund at the close of business on the last day of a distribution period, you are entitled to participate in the distributable income of the Fund. Any income you receive from your investments will be in the form of distributions. Your entitlement to distributable income (if any) is based on how many units you held at the end of the distribution period as a proportion of the total number of units on issue in the Fund at that time. Your distribution may include interest, dividends, other income and realised gains. Distributions are not guaranteed and there may be periods for which distributions are higher or lower than expected.

Distributions (if any) are generally determined at the end of June each year. Distributions (if any) are usually paid within 21 Business Days of the end of the distribution period.

4. Risks of managed investment schemes

All investments carry risk. Different strategies may carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets that make up the strategy. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk. The value of investments will vary. The level of returns will vary, and future returns may differ from past returns. Returns are not guaranteed, and investors may lose some or all of their investment. The laws affecting registered managed investment schemes may also change in the future.

The appropriate level of risk for each investor will vary depending on a range of factors including age, investment time frames, where other parts of the investor’s wealth is invested and the investor’s risk tolerance.

4.1 Specific investments risks

The specific investment risks of investing in the Fund include:

Concentration risk. Under normal circumstances, the Fund focuses its investments in the securities of a limited number of issuers. This may subject the Fund to greater issuer-specific risk and potential losses than a fund that invests in the securities of a greater number of issuers.

Derivative risk. The Fund may be exposed to derivative securities. The use of derivatives exposes a fund to different risks as opposed to investing directly in a security. For example, derivatives can cause a fund to make greater gains or incur greater losses than the gains and losses of the underlying security in relation to which the derivative derives its value.

Derivative transactions may be subject to the risk that a counterparty to the transaction will wholly or partially fail to perform their contractual obligations under the arrangement (including failing to meet collateral requirements under the arrangement). Additionally, OTC markets are not guaranteed by an exchange or clearing corporation and generally do not require payment of margin. To the extent that a fund has unrealised gains in such instruments or has deposited collateral with its counterparty that fund is at risk that its counterparty will become bankrupt or otherwise fail to honour its obligations. Derivative transactions may also expose a fund to a risk of potential illiquidity if the derivative instrument is difficult to purchase or sell.

The BlackRock Group attempts to minimise these risks by engaging in derivative transactions only with financial institutions that have substantial capital or that have provided a third-party guarantee or other credit enhancement.

Emerging markets risk. Emerging markets are generally more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. Other factors include greater ‘Liquidity Risk’, restrictions on investment or transfer of assets, failed/delayed delivery of securities or payments to the Fund and sustainability-related risks. There may be larger fluctuations to the value of your investment and increased risk of losing your capital.

Equity security risk. Equity securities are subject to changes in value, and their values may be more volatile than those of other asset classes. Dividend payments from shares may also vary over time.

ESG risk. The use of ESG criteria may affect the Fund’s investment performance and, as such, the Fund may perform differently compared to similar funds that do not use such criteria.

Foreign investment risk. Exposure to securities or derivative instruments issued in foreign markets may include certain risks associated with:

- differences in trading, settlement and clearing procedures that may restrict trading (as a result of suspensions or daily quotas), increase default or market operational risks or require securities to be held on a beneficial basis via a depository nominee;
- currency risk, the risk that foreign currencies change in value relative to the Australian dollar, which may affect a fund's investment returns. These movements may either add to or subtract from performance;
- countries may be subject to considerable degrees of market volatility, economic, political and social instability, which may reduce or preclude the ability to trade security exposures or negatively affect a security's value; and
- differences in accounting, financial reporting, taxation, legal, regulatory, liquidity and pricing practices that are subject to change and if so may adversely affect a fund.

Impact investing risk. The Fund intends to invest a portion of its assets in companies with measurable societal impact outcomes, pursuant to BlackRock's qualitative, proprietary methodology. This may affect the Fund's exposure to certain companies or industries and the Fund will forego certain investment opportunities. The Fund's results may be lower than other funds that do not seek to invest in companies based on expected societal impact outcomes. BlackRock seeks to identify companies that it believes may have a societal impact outcome, but investors may differ in their views of what constitutes positive or negative societal impact outcomes. As a result, the Fund may invest in companies that do not reflect the beliefs and values of any particular investor.

Small and mid-capitalisation companies risk. Companies with small or mid-size market capitalizations will normally have more limited product lines, markets and financial resources and will be dependent upon a more limited management group than larger capitalized companies. In addition, it is more difficult to get information on smaller companies, which tend to be less well known, have shorter operating histories, do not have significant ownership by large investors and are followed by relatively few securities analysts.

Underlying fund risk. The Fund may implement some or all of its investment strategy through an investment in underlying funds. The Fund and underlying funds are managed as separate entities, with separate investment objectives and investment strategies. No guarantee can be given that the underlying funds will meet their investment objective, continue to be managed according to their current investment strategy or be open to investments in the future. Changes to an underlying fund may be made without unitholder approval. Should an underlying fund change its investment objective or investment strategy, we will review such changes with consideration to the investment objective and strategy of the Fund. Further, if an underlying fund were to be suspended, closed or terminated for any reason, the Fund would be exposed to those changes.

4.2 General risks

Other risks more generally associated with investing in a fund include:

Conflicts of interest risk. Certain conflicts of interest may arise in the operation of a BlackRock Group fund. Fund structures may involve members of the BlackRock Group acting in more than one capacity, while BlackRock Group funds may hold over-the-counter derivative agreements where a member of the BlackRock Group is acting (in different capacities) on both sides of the agreement. BlackRock Group funds may be invested in by persons associated with BlackRock Group or by other funds and accounts managed by different members of the BlackRock Group. Investors in a fund may, in some instances, invest on different terms to each other, some of which may be more favourable than others. Each investor in a fund may act in a way which is adverse to the interests of other investors in that fund. Additionally, funds and accounts managed by different members of the BlackRock Group may act as a seed investor in a BlackRock Group fund, which may create a commercial opportunity for the BlackRock Group. For example, a seed investment may allow the BlackRock Group to establish a track record for a fund that can then be sold to other clients. Certain investment strategies of the BlackRock Group may conflict with each other and may affect the price and availability of securities in which to invest. Members of the BlackRock Group may also give advice or take action with respect to any of their clients, which may differ from the advice given or the timing or nature of any action taken with respect to the investments of other BlackRock Group funds or accounts.

While conflicts of interest may arise from time to time, the BlackRock Group has established policies and procedures in place to manage any such conflict, which includes ensuring transactions between BlackRock Group entities are conducted on an arm's length commercial basis.

Counterparty risk. Institutions, such as brokerage firms, banks, and broker-dealers, may enter into transactions with the manager of a fund in relation to the sale and purchase of assets or securities. Such institutions may also be issuers of the securities in which a fund invests. Bankruptcy, fraud, regulatory sanction or a refusal to complete a transaction at one of these institutions could significantly impair the operational capabilities or the capital position of a fund. While the BlackRock Group uses reasonable efforts to mitigate such risks, there can be no guarantee that transactions between such counterparties will always be completed in the manner contemplated by, and favourable to, the relevant fund.

Fund risk. The price of units in a fund and the income from them may go down as well as up. Investors may not get back their original investment. There can be no assurance that a fund will achieve its investment objective or that an investor will achieve profits or avoid losses, significant or otherwise. Capital return and income of a fund is based on the capital appreciation and income of the securities invested in, less expenses incurred. Fund returns may fluctuate in response to changes in such capital appreciation or income. The payment of distributions is at the discretion of the fund issuer, taking into account various factors and its own distribution policy. Distributions are not guaranteed and there may be periods for which distributions are higher or lower than expected. Investing in a fund may result in a different tax outcome than investing in securities directly. The application of tax laws and certain events occurring within a fund may result in you receiving some of your investment back as income in the form of a distribution. A fund will generally not be managed with consideration of the individual circumstances, including specific tax considerations, applicable to any single unitholder in the fund. Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

Individual investment risk. Individual securities held by a fund can and do fall in value for many reasons. Both price and levels of income are subject to fluctuation. Returns from individual securities will vary and price movements can be volatile.

Liquidity risk. The Fund may be exposed to securities with limited liquidity, which are in practice infrequently traded or for which typical daily volumes traded are small. It may not be possible to sell such securities when it is desirable to do so or to realise what the manager perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. The Fund may also be exposed to other funds that may, in certain circumstances, limit or suspend redemptions rights. The general level of market liquidity also varies and may deteriorate. Such a deterioration may negatively impact the ability to trade fund securities and may negatively affect the price at which a trade is executed. These circumstances could impair a fund's ability to make distributions to a redeeming unit holder in a timely manner and a fund may need to consider suspending redemptions.

The BlackRock Group aims to reduce these risks by understanding the liquidity characteristics of securities a fund is exposed to and plans trading so as to minimise the adverse consequences of low liquidity.

Market risk. The Fund could lose money over short periods due to short-term market movements and over longer periods during more prolonged market downturns. Local, regional or global events such as war, acts of terrorism, the spread of infectious illness or other public health issues, recessions, or other events could have a significant impact on the Fund and its investments.

Operational risk. The risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events. Adverse impacts may arise internally through human error, technology or infrastructure changes, or through external events such as third-party failures or crisis events. The BlackRock Group has procedures in place to manage these risks and, as much as possible, monitor the controls within these procedures to ensure operational risks are adequately managed.

Regulatory and business risk. Changes in corporate, taxation or other relevant laws, regulations or rules may adversely affect your investment. For example, such changes may adversely affect a fund's ability to execute certain investment strategies, which could have a material effect on performance.

5. How we invest your money

WARNING: Investors should consider the likely investment return, the risk, and their investment timeframe when choosing a fund in which to invest. This Fund only offers a single investment option.

5.1 Investment objective

The Fund seeks total return through active investment in companies whose goods and services address the world's great social and environmental problems, in BlackRock's view. The Fund is designed to generate returns in excess of the MSCI All Countries World Index, before fees, over the long term (i.e. 5 years or more).

5.2 Investment strategy

The Fund accesses its investment strategy through an investment in the BlackRock Global Impact Fund, a sub-fund of BlackRock Funds I ICAV (Underlying Fund). The Underlying Fund is established and regulated in Ireland and is managed by BlackRock Asset Management Ireland Limited.

The Underlying Fund invests in equity securities of issuers located throughout the world, including non-dollar denominated securities and securities of emerging market and frontier issuers. Equity securities include, but are not limited to, common stock, preferred stock, convertible securities, depositary receipts and other financial instruments that have similar economic characteristics to such equity securities. The Underlying Fund may invest in issuers of any market capitalization, including small to mid-capitalization companies.

The Underlying Fund seeks to achieve its objective by investing at least 80% of its total assets in equity securities and equity-related securities whose goods and services seek to address the world's social and environmental problems, as identified in the UN Sustainable Development Goals (see below). The Underlying Fund may also invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in aggregate in other collective investment schemes (CIS), including exchange traded funds, where the objectives of such CIS are consistent with the Fund's objective or for efficiently managing cash holdings and/or collateral.

BlackRock will seek to invest in portfolio securities that BlackRock believes:

- can bring additional and measurable impact based on the Impact Categories (as defined below); and
- also have the potential to produce attractive long-term returns across economic sectors.

The Fund aims to diversify its investments across companies that have an impact on issues facing people and the environment (the Impact Categories) across themes including, but not limited to, affordable housing, education and skilling, financial and digital inclusion, public health, safety and security, efficiency, electrification and digitalisation, green energy, pollution remediation and prevention, sustainable food and water. The Impact Categories seek to encapsulate companies which are helping to address the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through their products and services. The SDGs are a series of goals published by the United Nations that recognize that ending poverty and other deprivations must go hand-in-hand with improvements in health, education, and economic growth, and reduction in inequalities, while tackling climate change and working to preserve the planet's oceans and forests. BlackRock maps each company in the Fund's proprietary 'Impact Universe' to at least one of the underlying targets set out in the SDGs and considers whether a portfolio company's core business areas advance at least one of the Impact Categories.

BlackRock considers three main criteria when selecting constituents for the investment universe:

- materiality: generally at least half of a company's activity must be derived from activities reflecting an Impact Category, and which advance at least one of the impact themes;
- additionality: those activities must also be "additional" in that the product or service tackles problems that are not being well addressed by other entities. For example, companies should be serving an unaddressed market, operating in an underserved region or population, or producing a new technology, or providing a novel business model; and
- measurability: a provisional key performance indicator (KPI) of impact must be assigned to each company admitted to the universe and pre-investment. An impact KPI permits post-investment impact measurement, essential for impact reporting, and holds the team and process accountable to the intended impact outcome. Examples of KPIs include number of patients treated, number of affordable homes sold, CO2 emissions avoided, or loan value provided to micro enterprises.

The portfolio constituents are then selected using an optimised stock selection approach, from the proprietary Impact Universe, using a series of proprietary signals, including Valuation, Sentiment, Quality and a toolbox of ESG signals to create a diversified portfolio that seeks to maximise long term risk-adjusted returns. In addition to exposure to sustainable investments, all holdings within this Fund will be deemed to do no significant harm (DNSH) to environmental or social factors, as determined by BlackRock. BlackRock assesses this according to an internal methodology (as amended from time to time) which considers a representative sub-set of Principal Adverse Impact (PAI) indicators. PAIs are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

Although our process is based on positive company selection, business involvement screens are also applied to exclude companies that are involved in controversial business activities, based on sector involvement, and subject to revenue thresholds, including but not limited to:

- controversial weapons
- nuclear weapons
- thermal coal
- oil sands
- fossil fuels
- tobacco

5.3 What does the Fund invest in?

The Fund invests substantially all of its assets in the Underlying Fund.

The Fund may be suitable for investors who are seeking capital growth. The minimum suggested timeframe for holding investments in the Fund is 5 years. From an investor’s perspective, the Fund is considered high to very high risk.

6. Fees and costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

6.1 Fees and costs summary

The following table shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. Unless otherwise indicated, fees are inclusive of Goods and Services Tax (GST), any applicable stamp duty and take into account expected reduced input tax credits in respect of the GST component of the fee.

6.3 Additional explanation of fees and costs

Can the fees and charges change?

All fees can change. The current fees applicable to your investment are set out in this PDS and although we have the power to change our fee structure without your consent, we have no present intention to do so. Fees may vary over time due to changes to the Fund, changing economic conditions or changes in regulation. We will provide investors 30 days' notice of any proposed increase to our fees and charges.

Registered managed investment schemes generally do not pay tax on behalf of investors. However, BlackRock may be required to withhold tax from each distribution at the relevant withholding tax rates under certain circumstances. You will be assessed for tax on any income and capital gains attributed to you by the fund.

8. How to apply

8.1 How to apply

To make your initial investment, complete and send to us (either by post or facsimile) the Fund's Application Form that accompanies this PDS or is available from our website or by calling Client Services (refer to page 1 of this PDS for contact details). You will normally be able to invest in the Fund on any Business Day. A list of public holidays affecting the Fund is available on our website. We have absolute discretion to accept, reject, or limit any application request.

If you choose to send us your completed Fund Application Form by facsimile, you will need to send us your original Fund Application Form for our records. Investor transaction requests are required to be received prior to the Transaction Cut-off Time. Transaction requests received before this time will generally be executed on the relevant Trade Date. Investor transaction requests received after this time or on a day when the Fund is unavailable for transactions will generally be treated as having been received the following Business Day.

Your investment amount can be deposited into the application bank account as shown on the Fund's Application Form. If you deposit your investment amount in the application bank account, you must provide us with verification from your financial institution that the money has been banked.

Investment details are outlined in the Fund's Application Form.

In order for us to be able to process your investment, you must ensure that BlackRock receives cleared money by the relevant Trade Date. You may also need to complete an Investor Identification Form (which follows the Fund Application Form) for the purpose of Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing legislation. Refer to section 2.4 of this PDS titled "How to redeem your investment" for details of the Fund's Business Day, Transaction Cut-off Time and Trade Date.

8.2 Do you have "cooling off" rights?

If you are not otherwise a "wholesale client" or "professional investor" (as defined in the Corporations Act) you have a 14-day cooling off period in which to decide if the investment is right for you. The 14-day cooling off period starts when your initial investment in the Fund is confirmed or the end of the fifth business day after the day on which units in the Fund are first issued, whichever is earlier.

If you would like to exercise your cooling off right, you must submit your request to us in writing (including by facsimile) and specifically state that you are exercising your cooling off right. If we receive your request by the Transaction Cut-off Time, your refund will generally be executed on the relevant Trade Date. Cooling off requests received after this time or on a day when the Fund is unavailable for transactions will generally be treated as having been received on the following Business Day. The amount of your refund will be reduced or increased for market movements in the Fund as well as any applicable transaction costs and less any non-refundable tax or duty paid or payable. Accordingly, depending upon the circumstances, the amount returned to you may be greater or less than the amount initially invested.

Refer to section 2.4 of this PDS titled "How to redeem your investment" for details of the Fund's Business Day, Transaction Cut-off Time and Trade Date.
