FUND OVERVIEW

The Fund aims to achieve a return on your investment, through a combination of capital growth and income on the Fund's assets, which reflects the return of the S&P Global Essential Metals Producers Index, the Fund's benchmark index ("Index").

KEY BENEFITS

- 1. The Index aims to reflect the performance of a subset of equity securities of eligible developed and emerging market countries with involvement in the production of metals that are required for the global energy sector's transition from fossil-based systems of energy production and consumption to renewable energy sources.
- 2. The index offers exposure to transition metal related business grouped into 3 classifications: core metal categories (including copper and lithium), non-core metal categories (including zinc and silver) and diversified metal categories.
- 3. The benchmark seeks to exclude companies classified as Non-Compliant with Sustainalytics' Global Standards Screening ("GSS"). The index provider may also exclude constituents involved in controversial activities as identified by S&P's annual Media and Stakeholder Analysis.

CAPITAL AT RISK: The value of investments and the income from them can fall as well as rise and are not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the amount originally invested.

KEY RISKS:

- Emerging markets are generally more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. Other factors include greater 'Liquidity Risk', restrictions on investment or transfer of assets, failed/delayed delivery of securities or payments to the Fund and sustainability-related risks.
- Investment risk is concentrated in specific sectors, countries, currencies or companies. This means the Fund is more sensitive to any localised economic, market, political, sustainability-related or regulatory events.
- The value of equities and equity-related securities can be affected by daily stock market movements. Other influential factors include political, economic news, company earnings and significant corporate events.
- Counterparty Risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Share Class to financial loss.
- Liquidity Risk: Lower liquidity means there are insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Fund to sell or buy investments readily.
