GLOSSARY

Equity Beta (3y): Beta is a measure of the tendency of securities to move with the market as a whole. A beta of 1 indicates that the security's price will move with the market. A beta less than 1 indicates the security tends to be less volatile than the market, while a beta greater than 1 indicates the security is more volatile than the market. Calculated vs. S&P 500.

Standard Deviation (3y): Standard deviation measures how dispersed returns are around the average. A higher standard deviation indicates that returns are spread out over a larger range of values and thus, more volatile.

Unsubsidized 30 Day SEC Yield: Represents what a fund's 30-Day SEC Yield would have been had no fee waiver or expense reimbursement been in place over the period.

Distribution Frequency: How often a distribution is paid by the fund. The most common distribution frequencies are annually, biannually and quarterly.

30 Day SEC Yield: A standard calculation of yield introduced by the SEC in order to provide fairer comparison among funds. This yield reflects the interest earned after deducting the fund's expenses during the most recent 30-day period by the average investor in the fund. Negative 30-Day SEC Yield results when accrued expenses of the past 30 days exceed the income collected during the past 30 days.

Number of Holdings: The number of holdings in the fund excluding cash positions and derivatives such as futures and currency forwards.
